TEXAS .- The news from Taxas by the Nautilus is of no special importance.

The Galveston news of the 12th reports that city healthy and the weather stormy. The latest reports from Houston are to the effect that the yellow fever is on the increase there, but no particulare are given. Heavy rains continued falling in all parts of the State.

The Gonzales Enquirer says that there has recently been so much rain in that section as to render the prospect of a full harvest gloomy. It rained nine days without intermission.

The editor of the Washington Union says "there is honor among thieves." We do not wonder at his anxiety to establish the fact. Tis his only chance of ever getting himself sidered honorable.

THE KING'S FARM .- Our readers are advised that a suit has been commenced against the Trinity Church corporation of the city of New York to recover the real estate held by it in that city, now of immense value, known originally as "The King's Farm." This sut is prosecuted under the authority of the commissioners of the land office.—Albany (N. Y.) Argus.

The property is valued at $20,000,000.

Those previously under treatment are generally doing well, and there have been but two deaths in the last two days from fever.

We certainly cannot, with all our anxiety to keep our friends fully advised in the matter, feel authorized to say we have an epidemic.

At Canton we learn that there were three new case a Wednesday.

cluding many houses of extensive connections, and who previously possessed a high degree of Bulletin says: credit, than has been known for many years, by an extraordinary derangement of monetary affairs, and decreased facilities in all financial matters; by a loss of commercial confidence; and by general disappointment with regard to the results of apparently judicious investments. These unfavorable features were, however, principally confined to the early part of the year, the last two quarters having exhibited fewer disasters, in consequence of an increased abundance of money caused by restricted operations, and the limited scope given to commercial enterprise. They have also been relieved by the fortunate results of the trade in our leading staple, which, as will be seen by the details below, has exhibited a steady upward tendency from last December until within the last six or eight weeks. The high prices realized, moreover, for several articles of our trade, including breadstuffs and provisions, have compensated to some extent for their deficient quantities. Taking, nevertheless, a general view of the city trade, we find it marked by unusual dullness nearly throughout the season, the demand having been curtailed by the same causes which have diminished receipts, the difficulty of communication with the interior, in consequence of the low stage of water in the Southern tributaries of the Mississippi and the Alabama rivers."

In Cotton, the leading article of New Orleans trade, it appears that the sales of the year comprise 1,277,500 bales against 1,405,000 in 1853-54; the entire receipts being 1,284,700 against 1,440,000, and the exports 1,272,500 against 1,-428,200. The receipts show a falling off compared with the year previous of 131,000 bales, which is attributed to the prevalence of low water in the Arkansas and Red rivers and their tributaries. We present the following table taken from the review. It shows the general import of cotton into Great Britain from 1850 ville True Whig, died in that city on Friday, af- to 1854 each inclusive, with the stock remaining over at the close of each year, and the quantity taken for export and home consumption

From these figures we see that the consumption was greater than in any previous year, exceeding that of 1852, which was then the largest on record, 37,727 bales, and showing an excess of 94,817 bales when compared with 1853. We also see a reduction in the amount of stock of 93,130 bales compared with 1853 and 13,070 with 1852. If such be the wants of Great Britain during a disastrous and expensive war, it may well be conjectured, that, with the return of peace and the consequent stimulus to all her industrial movements, she will require a much larger supply of the staple than we have hitherto furnished.

By an inspection of this table, it will be perceived, that, while the import of Brazilian cotton is on the decline, and that of Indian remains stationary, the import of American into Great Britain is steadily increasing. And there can be no doubt, that, with a well-devised and complete system of railroads penetrating the interior from New Orleans as a centre to aid the slave labor of the South, American cotten would be independent of and above all rivalry.

Sugar, the second staple article of the South. has in the past year diminished in the quantity and increased in price. The quantity of sugar produced last year was 346,635 hogsheads against 449,324 the year previous. The following table will show the number of hogsheads produced in the past six years:

At the beginning of December, Fair ruled at 34,64c, and, affer some slight fluctuations, suffering a material depression in the interim from the difficulty of negotiating exchange and stringency of the money market, it sunk to 3,634 c in January, which was the lowest point of the season, but subsequently rallied again, and commanded 37,64c. From this period the general tendency of prices was npward. In March, Fair rose to 44,644c, in April to 5,465%, in May to 54,65%, in June to 5,465%, and in July to 5,465%. During the past month, owing to reduced supplies and a continued fair demand, prices have still more rapidly advanced—Fair rising to 54,664c by the 4th, to 6,5 by the 1th, to 7,4674 by the 18th, to 7,468 by the 25th, and to 8,884 during the past week.

The present high price of sugar is unquestionably predicated upon the belief that the incoming crop will be a short one. The accounts from the sugar region are conflicting, but in the main the indications are unfavorable to the growing crop. Some, who apprehend a short crop, base their opinion on an admitted deficiency of plant cane, the backwardness of the growth, and the general appearance of the fields in most parts of the parishes.

The movement in tobacco in New Orleans will be seen from the following statement:

Receipts. 48,750 Exports. 53,100 64,100 42,600 1854-5 53,300 32,600

From these figures it will be seen that there has been a decrease of 10,000 hhds in the sales, an increase of 4,550 hhds in the receipts, and of 11,000 in the exports. In comparing the exports with last year's they exhibit an increase to Great Britain of 1,400 hhds, to France of 5,700 hhds, a decrease to the North of Europe of 4,700, an increase to the Spanish, Italian, and other foreign ports of 6,000, and otherwise of 2,600, making the net increase 11,000 hhhs.

In pork, although there has been an increase in the receipts as compared with last year, there has been a decrease compared with the previous year. Prices have fluctuated, but, as a general thing, they have steadily advanced. In January, sales of old were made at $11 75. which was the lowest point of the season. At this time the stock at the inspection warehouses comprised 5,275 bbls, mostly old, and the market took a favorable turn. Mess advanced in January to $13 50@$13 75, but subsequently receded 50c per bbl. In March buyers came forward with renewed spirit, and mess advanced to $14 25@$14 50, since which it has exhibited an almost uninterrupted upward tendency, rising in April to $16@$16 50, in May to $16 50@$17, in June to $17@$17 25, in July to $18, and during the past month to $19@$20, closing at the outside figures. In connection with this sketch of the course of prices, we annex a table showing the monthly receipts and exports compared with those of 1853-4 and

In the various staples of lard, beef, hemp, &c., nothing occurred during the year particularly remarkable, and we shall pass them over without further comment.

The trade in lead, once so active and so important, seems to have declined; indeed it may be said to have passed away from New Orleans. Speaking of it, the Bulletin says:

leans. Speaking of it, the Bulletin says:

The receipts of lead are less than at any time since the opening of the Upper Mississippi mines, comprising only 70,-000 pigs, against 74,300 last year, 210,500 in 1852-3, 299,500 in 1851-2, 329,000 in 1850-1, 415,000 in 1849-50, 500,000 in 1849-7, 785,000 in 1849-50, 500,000 in 1849-7, 785,000 in 1845-6, and an average of 570,000 for the five preceding years. In fact the trade may be regarded as having terminated, at least so far as it is regarded as furnishing the elements of a market. The reduced production of the mines, caused by a withdrawal of mining labor to other pursuits, and the increased demand at the West for manufacturing purposes, loaves little or no surplus for shipment, and a considerable portion of our limited receipts have consisted of purchases made in the West by Northern manufacturers for their own consumption. We have even seen cake lead from Mexico shipped up the Mississippi.

New Orleans presents a signal instance illustrative of the fact that the uncertain navigation of rivers which are liable to periodical obstructions from dought and ice will not do to rely on as avenues of commerce. Trade, that depends upon these uncertain channels, is ever liable to be diverted by the construction of railroads. New Orleans has suffered much by such diversion. She once possessed the profits of the entire trade of the Mississippi valley. Now the larger share of that trade and its corresponding profits pass into the hands of the merchants and factors of the Eastern cities, and New Orleans declines in business, in population, and in wealth. We are informed by the Bulleyear is attributed to the damage done by co- tin, that notwithstanding the erection during the pious rains that occurred in September and Oc-tober last, which had the effect to lessen the public buildings than in any former years, the ness are said to be greater than the accessions of new firms, thus indicating in a very unequivocal manner the decline of business. In times past, New Orleans had more than her fair proportion of the Western trade, and the diversion that is now going on is nothing but the legitimate effects of the efforts that have been made to cause commerce to flow on its appropriate parallels of latitude. It was unnatural that the lead, mined in Illinois and Wisconsin. should find its way to New York through New Orleans. It now goes East on railways and by the Lakes and canals more economically than it did on its circuitous route via the Mississippi and the sea. Other articles that are produced on the Upper Mississippi will seek the same route to the great marts on the sea coast. The reviewer in the Bulletin in treating the subject of the declining trade of New Orleans says:

the declining trade of New Orleans says:

With regard to the Western trade, we see such apathy on the part of our own citizens, while at the same time the Atlantic cities are engaging in the competition for it with increased means and energy, that we almost despair of retaining even that portion of it to which we are fairly entitled by our position, and which, with more capital and greater enterprise, we could exclusively command. To illustrate this, it is only necessary to refer to the course pursued at the North in relation to the incoming cereal crops, which promise such abundant returns. Having all ready the facilities of canals and railroads extending to the remote West, and acting in harmony for their great purpose of diverting from the Southern markets the Western trade, their merchants might rest contented with their apparently superior resources, and await the regular course of trade to bring the rich harvests of the West to their wharves. But not satisfied with the advantages they already possess, with these material facilities, and their usual abundant supply of repital and banking facilities for the movement of the cropsthey are stimulating its progress by an increased expansion of currency, to be employed in library, to be employed in library, to be mispleyed in library, and transmit of the crops they are stimulating its progress by an increased expansion of currency to be used for the purpose, and now we are informed by one of their leading commercial organs, that owning to the demand at the West for currency, for the purpose referred to, large amounts of the rot currency, for the purpose referred to, large amounts of the notes of the New England banks had been "arranged for" and transmitted to the West, in the place of coin—that this operation had enabled their inconsequence of these supplies of currency to balances at the credit o

The use of these money facilities by the people of the Northern cities to extend and promote their trade with the West is perfectly fair and legitimate, and it would be equally fair and proper for the people of New Orleans to endeavor to counteract the movement by a like extension of pecuniary facilities. If this is not done, they must be content to see the sceptre of commerce pass from their hands to be grasped by more vigorous and more enterprising rivals. Heretofore New Orleans has been the chief exporting city, while New York has held the supremacy in imports, but it is evident that this latter city is striving to become mistress of both the export and import trade of the nation. We confess that we do not desire to see such a consummation. New York has now too much political weight in the Union, and the further concentration of commercial and political power in that city and State would be dangerous by diminishing the stability of our government. Diffusion of wealth, diffusion of political power, and diffusion of commerce, are what is desiderable. We do not desire to see any great metropolitan city grow up with its millions of citizens, who with wealth, pride, and power, might in process of time aspire to control the nation and give the law to the whole land.

Corn and Hemp .- In every direction the reports of theavy corn crops come to us; and the assertion is generally hazarded that the crop will be the largest ever made in the country. The other day, in conversation with a gentle-man of this vicinity, he said, among other things in regard to his corn, that from about sixty acres he thought he should realize one thousand barrels of corn. His hemp was spoken of as being the best he had ever cut in an experience of many years in Kentucky. We have heard a number of gentlemen make the same remark in regard to hemp, and it seems to be the opinion that the lint will be very heavy and of good quality.—Lexington (Mo.) Express, Sept. 15.

INTERESTING FROM THE RIO GRANDE.-By the arrival of the steamer Nautilus at New Orleans, we have Brownsville dates to the 5th inst. Among the passengers by the Nautilus is Gen. Woll, late Governor of Tamaulipas. He left Matamoras on the 8th or 9th, stating to his friends that he would not acknewledge the new Government, and could not remain any longer. He turned over the command to Gen. Castro, who, it was supposed, would pronounce in favor of the plan of Ayutla at once. He has about 1,800 men under his command.

On the 4th, Gen. Woll published a manifesto to his troops, announcing the resignation of Santa Anna, and stating that they would obey the orders of any Government which might be formed by the nation. He was escorted from Brownsville to Point Isabel, by tcn U. S. Dragoons, under command of Lieut. Pelouze.

The Brownsville Flag, of the 1st, publishes official documents from which it appears that Vidauri has declared Gutian's plan null and void, and requests him to lay down his arms and turn over all the public moneys to the proper authorities, and that he will send a detachment of his troops to attend to affairs, as he wishes to have unity of action among the different States, otherwise he will give him no aid.

The following items came on a slip from the Flag office, dated the 4th inst.:

The latest news we have of the revolution on the frontier is, that on the 30th ult. a battle was fought between the Federal, commanded by Guadalupe Garcia and Miguel Tijerin, and a detachment composed of one hundred and forty Government troops under the command of Pedro Quintero, who was mortally wounded and has since died.

It was stated that Vidauri had sent a message to Woll, informing him that, as it was useless to prolong the contest after Santa Anna's flight, the revolutionists would show no mercy to those of Woll's detachment who might afterwards fall into their hands.

We learn that in the engagements referred to above, one hundred men were reported to have been shot by the Federalists. They were a part of Woll's forces and had been sent by him to levy contribution on a little town not far from

Three of the Mexican States, viz: Zacatecas, Coahuila, and Nuevo Leon, have pronounced for Vidauri's plan. Tamaulipas will follow, and then it remains to be seen whether he or Alvarez will take the leed in national affairs.

In speaking of the revolution and the present state of the country, the Brownsville Flag says:

Rumor has it that Vidavri and Alvarez are Clarksville, says the Russellville Herald, are wrangling to see which of them shall be President, but it seems strange that men of such intelligence, energy, and capacity, as Alvarez and Vidauri have proved themselves to possess, would hazard the nationality of their common country, and create, as some say, rather than submit, separate republics.

Gen. Woll caused two deserters from his ar my to be shot a short time before his flight.

A GREAT RAILROAD SCHEME .- The New York Herald has the following in its money article:

The Hannibal and St. Joseph line of road projected across the State of Missouri, from the Mississippi river at Hannibal, where it will connect with the great network of Illinois roads to the Missouri at St. Joseph, has been taken hold of by a party of Boston capitalists, consisting of R. B. Forbes, John M. Forbes, John E. Thayer, H. H. Hunnewell, and Thomas B. Curtis. The work has a government grant of 600,000 acres selected lands, and a stock subscription of $1,500,000. The local and other individual subscriptions to the stock are stated at $1,600,000. Length of the road 200 miles. Estimated cost not to exceed $6,000,000. The loans of the concern, about one-half the cost, will be based upon its lands, which, at $5 the acre, would reimburse the bonds, or at $8 an acre, leave $1,900,000 surplus, or at $10 an acre, leave a surplus of $3,100,000.

HORRIBLE ATTEMPT AT MURDER .- The Rev. George Tucker, on Sunday week, with his son and daughter, were going to church in Clayton, Conn. In passing the house of a Captain Harvey, this man fired deliberately, first at Miss Tucker, and as Mr. Tucker turned to see the cause of the firing, he received the contents of a second barrel of a shot-gun in his face. It would appear that in turning round he fortunately escaped the bulk of the charge, which struck against the wall on the opposite side of the lane. Miss Tucker's escape amounts almost to a miracle, as the assassin must have fired point blank at her head. The charge entered the poll of her bonnet, making a hole about the size of an orange, carried away the comb in her hair, and lodged in the wall on the opposite side; not a shot touched her. Hopes are entertained of Mr. Tucker's recovery. No cause whatever can be assigned for this horrible outrage. Harvey was arrested and committed for trial.

THE FUTURE COURSE OF THE MONEY MAR KET .- We copy the following article from the Liverpool Times of September 8th. Apprehensions have been expressed that a continuance of the European war might result in a pressure in the English money market. It will be seen that the able writer of the money articles of the London Times, who is considered very high authority, takes a different view of the matter, and relies with confidence upon a satisfactory position of moneyed affairs:

The directors of the Bank of England have advanced the rate of discount from 31 per cent., at which it stood since the 15th of June, to 4 per cent. The discount houses, following in the same course, have given notice of an increase in the rate of allowance for money on call to 31 per cent. The Bank of England rate for advances on Government securities during the shutting of the transfer books has been raised simultaneously with the rate of discount, and will now be 3½ instead of 3. The city writer in the London Times of yesterday upon this sub-

From the movements of specie and the demand for discount during the past ten days it is believed the next two or three weekly returns of the bank will fully confirm its necessity. At the same time there is reason to rely that the present advance will prove sufficient, and that no further material change or disturbance of the money market need be apprehended. Many in-fluences are in prospect to keep up a demand for money and to call for watchfulness, but those on the opposite side are equally numerous. The remittance of £4,000,000 for the balance of the Turkish loan, which is required within a period of little over five months, is one of the chief elements to be estimated, but the probability is that before the last instalments are completed the sums transmitted for the first will course of rapid return for military and other supplies sent from this country. In a similar degree the realizations of a large portion of the share of the French loans subscribed in London will be likely at an early period to counterbal-ance the future payments on that which will remain. With regard to the instalments on the home loan, between this and Dec. of £6,408,000 their effect on the money market is, of course, represented simply by the weekly total of about into materials of war. Among the permanent causes of derangement, the latter is the most serious, but it is, perhaps, not incorrect to assume that it will be more than met by the profits of trade under the continued stimulus of the gold production in California and Australia. In relation to the harvest, there can now, on the whole, be no question of its generally satisfactory character, and although, if present prices are maintained, America will certainly, for some time to come, send us wheat instead of gold, the consequence of such arrivals may be cause a large export to the continent, which will act favorably on the French and German exchanges. Looking at all these circumstances, combined with the knowledge that so long as they continue they check the usual efflux of British capital for doubtful foreign schemes, and also that while any gold is left in Russia it must continue to flow to Western Europe, complete confidence may be entertained that the present steady course of trade will be upheld, and that while we are not likely within the next few months to have any experience of cheap money, we may feel almost equally secure against any inconvenient pressure.

$25,000 of GOVERNMENT FUNDS STOLEN. The New York Journal of Commerce of Friday evening says:

The very thing which we have so often apprehended in the transport of specie belonging to the United States has been realized. Two boxes shipped from the collector at Dubuque, Iowa, for the Assistant Treasurer here, and forwarded as containing $25,000 each in gold coin, were opened at the office here to-day, and found to contain rifle bullets nicely packed. They were sealed and hasped, and looked as innocent as if they enclosed no such deadly missiles.

Madame Rachel has yielded to the wishes of the public, and reduced the prices of admission to her performances. In making the announce-ment, Mr. Felix states that the average of his receipts exceeds thus far what he thought to unt upon, and that therefore he makes the re-

The Philadelphia Bulletin of this P. M. states that, during the recent trial of the Wheeler slave case, an attempt was made to bribe the jury. The matter was brought before Judge Kelly, who has directed an investigation to be made.

NEWS ITEMS. Rachel .- The New York Herald states that Rachel will proceed from that city to Boston, where she will play eight nights. She will visit

New Orleans in January. The Walnut Street Theater, at Philadelphia as been leased two weeks for M'lle Rachel. She will give ten representations, all different.

The Paris correspondent of the New York Tribune states that the commission of American officers, sent to Sebastopol to study the works there and observe such warlike improvements as have been introduced, have completed their examination within the Russian lines, and have returned to Vienna, prior to going, by way of Varna and Kamiesh, to visit the trenches of the besiegers-permission having finally been granted by the French government. They report that the place is impregnable by the force now arrayed before it, and that in any event it cannot be taken without bloodshed unexampled in history.

Affrays in Arkansas .- A serious difficulty occurred at Paraclifta on Monday, the 20th ult., between Mr. Dillahunty and Mr. Weems Bowie-knives were used, and Dillahunty was severely but not dangerously wounded. Later in the day, at the same place, another difficulty took place between Peyton N. Davis and B. C. Parker, and ultimately involved a young man named Joseph J. Taaffe, who was shot by Davis. The ball took effect in or near Taaffe's shoulder, and, although the wound is considered dangerous, hopes are entertained of his recovery. Davis and Parker fired several shots at each other, none of which took effect. Mr. Taaffe recently graduated at the Lebanon law school. Later accounts say he was shot accidentally, while running across the street.

Col. Hays, the mail agent, recently arrested the postmaster at Lion's Bend, in Sevier county, Ark., on suspicion of abstracting money from the mails. The proof against him is positive.

Heavy Fall of Wheat .- The Richmond Enquirer states that, on the morning of the 18th inst., the fifth floor of the large seven story warehouse near the flour mills of the Messrs Haxall, on James river in that city, gave way under the weight of wheat which had been stored therein, carrying with it the remaining floors, all loaded with wheat. As much probably as 20,000 bushels of wheat fell amidst a heavy mass of broken timbers, directly upon the water wheels of the upper mill, crushing the main wheel into atoms, and injuring two other wheels. The Messrs. Haxall lose from $10,000 to $20,000 by this catastrophe.

Important Suit-Heavy Verdict against the Important Suit—Heavy Vertice against the Harlem Railroad Company.—In the court of common pleas, this morning, before Judge Ingraham, the trial was had of a suit brought by Mr. James M. Drake, and another Wall street broker, against the Harlem Railroad Company to recover $25,000, being an amount advanced on shares of stock presented in a business way by Alexander Kyle, late secretary and transfer clerk of the company. These shares were a part of the fraudulent stock, the history of which is well known. A verdict was returned for the full amount with interest—making in all $27,153 47, beside an allowance of 1 per cent to counsel.—N. Y. Commercial.

Mr. Dow Caves .- It is rumored that the mayor has determined to make no further special effort to enforce the liquor law in this city; that he says the people voted for rum, and now they may have it. We understand also that, in ac-cordance with this determination, the police stationed at the Atlantic wharf to watch for liquor on the arrival of the Boston boats have been withdrawn. We do not vouch for the rumor, but it comes to us from good authority.

United States Circuit Court-The Patent Reap er Case.—This great case, involving the validity of the McCormick and Manny patents, came up for hearing before their honors, Judge McLean and Judge Drummond, of the district court of Illinois. It was adjourned to this city for hearing by the circuit court of the State. The testimony is very voluminous, and the exhibits (as the lawyers call them) very ponderous and nu-merous. The entire machines of both the par-Johnson, Mr. Dickinson, of New York, with Mr. Arnold, of Illinois, represent the complainant; and Messrs. Stanton, of Pittsburg, Harding, of Philadelphia, Lincoln, of Illinois, and R. M. Corwin, of this city, appear for the defendants. It will occupy some days, and will attract, as its great importance deserves, a large share of public attention.—Cin. Gazette.

Tobacco Barns Burned .- We learn that Mr. Geo. A. Washington had a fine barn burned, last Sunday, containing about 30,000 lbs. of to bacco. It is supposed to have been struck by lightning. Mr. Eddinton, Mr. A. Duerson, and Mr. Williams, all of this county, have each had a barn burned. We have not been able to learn any particulars .- Elkton (Ky.) Banner.

A negro woman was killed in Williamson county, about a quarter of a mile from Beach's county, about a quarter of a mile from Beach's tavern, on Wednesday last, by Mrs. James Baolton. It appears that Mrs. B., exasperated by jealousy, whipped the woman, who belonged to her husband, scalded her, knocked her in the head with a spade, and finally hung her. We learn that Mrs. B. confesses to the killing, but avers that it was done in self-defence. She has been arrested, and the affair was to have undergone a judicial examination yesterday. Our informant says that Mrs. B. is rather a good looking woman, and appears to be about thirty years of age. If the circumstances of the murder are such as stated to our informant, they are perhaps without a parallel in atrocity in the criminal annals of the State. For the sake of humanity, we hope they are misrepresented.

Examining Court.—Archibald Rutherford, a young man from Logan county, has been arrested under suspicion of having murdered Mr. Aquilla M. Starks, which our readers will remember we spoke of last week. Rutherford was, on Monday last, brought before the court of inquiry, and, after a long and patient investigation, was committed to jail to await further trial. The evidence against him is entirely circumstantial, but of the strongest character. On last Saturday night, Mr. T. Tyler, of Todd county, was robbed of a large amount of money, while lodging at one of our hotels, Suspicion fell on one Jack Kelly, an Irish well-digger, and on being searched the stolen money was found in the pocket of the unfortunate individual. Jack had a hearing on Monday, and in default of bail he was locked up in durance vile.

TRIAL OF AMERICAN REAPING AND MOW-ING MACHINES IN FRANCE.-We make the following extracts from an account of the trial of mowing and reaping machine under the direction of the jury at the Paris Universal Exposi-

[Translated from "Le Constitutionnel."] The second day of August having been ap-pointed for the final trial of all the Reaping and Mowing Machines in the Exposition, it accordingly came off as expected. There were 10 machines in the Exposition, 9 of them were sent out by the Imperial Commissioner to the place of trial, about forty miles distant. Stakes were driven into the ground, and ropes were drawn from stake to stake until the entire field of about 15 acres was surrounded. This was a field of an ordinary growth of oats, standing up well, and was divided into lots or pieces of about an acre each, by swaths being cut through at a given distance parallel with each other; the pieces were numbered, and a machine allotted to each.

At the beat of the drum, three machines started off-terether.

ted off together—J. S. Wright's of Chicago, Ill., managed by his agent, Mr. Jewell, Patrick Bell's machine, by Mr. Faurent, and a machine from Algiers. These machines were calculated to do their own raking by machinery. Wright's machine cut its piece in 24 minutes, Bell's in 66 minutes, and the Algiers machine in 72 minutes.

After the jurors had carefully noted the trial thus far, the signal was again given and off started three other machines—J. H. Manny's, of Rockford, Ill., managed by his agent, Mr. Mabie, Bell's machine, by Croskill, and a French one horse reaper. Bell's by Croskill and the one-horse French reaper both failed to cut their pieces, while Manny's did its work in the most exquisite manner, not leaving a single stalk ungathered, and it discharged the grain in a most perfect shape, as if placed by hand for the binders. It finished its piece most gloriously. The jurors themselves could not restrain their ad-After the jurors had carefully noted the trial jurors themselves could not restrain their admiration, but cried out-"Good!" "Well done!" The people applauded and hurrahed for "Manny's American Reaper-that's the machine." Again after the jury had taken further notes of the trial, the signal was given and three other machines started off on the contest: Hussey's reaper by Dray; McCormick's by McKenzie; and Bell's by Perry. Hussey's machine cut its piece in thirty minutes, McCormick's in twenty minutes, and Bell's failed to finish its piece. Hussey's machine did its work remarkably well, cutting clean and smoothly, and leaving the grain in the track of the machine in good for the binders. This machine was conceded to be too heavy and laborious for the team, and leaving the grain in the track of the machine was found to be an objection, as it necessarily needed to be bound and removed as fast as the machine did its work, in order that the machine could pass around a succeeding time; yet this reaper is unquestionably a good one, and may be used to great advantage, as it would likely prove durable, being very strongly made. McCormick's machine performed its work well, cutting a close and even swath, but the raker or attendant who performed the labor of discharging the grain seemed to be very much strained, being obliged to ride backward upon the machine at one end of the reel, having to reach fully across the entire width of the machine with a long handled rake, to gather the grain and lay it off of the machine. The horses of this machine were much troubled by a strong lateral pressure against their shoulders, occas sioned by the tongue of the machine. reaper on the whole is much too cumbersome and heavy for two horses; however, it has proven itself to be vastly superior to any of the inventions of the Old World, and from the fact of its great success heretofore, particularly at the London Exhibiton in 1851, it elicited a good deal of admiration and curiosity. The contest was now fairly narrowed down to Manny's, Wright's, and McCormick's; but on starting Wright's again broke down and left the struggle exclusively to the two machines—Manny's and McCormick's.

The two machines were then to be changed in presence of the jurors from the capacity of reaping to that of mowing. Manny's made the change in one minute, McCormick's in twenty minutes with three men. Each machine made one cut through the field of grass and back, Manny's doing the best of the two. Then the change was made again for reaping, and in the same time respectively as before; then both machines were taken into a wheat field. Manny's machine cut three swaths, and with an ease of action and perfection of work which fairly placed it far beyond any further competition, though McCormick's reaper cut two and in a workmanlike manner. Even if the two machines were equal as to the quality of the work, yet it was observed that Manny's would have the advantage of being the most compact, less cumbersome, and of much less weight than McCormick's; and in Manny's there is no later al pressure against the horses as by McCor-mick's; also of being much the lightest draft, and more easily adjusted to different heights of cutting and most easily convertible for the two purposes of reaping and mowing. This seemed to be the only machine against which there could be no objection urged. We could give n better evidence of the facts above than the fact that Mr. Mabie had upon the conclusion of th trial very large offers for the patents of the machine, two of which we heard: for France one offer was one hundred thousand francs, and one of one hundred and twenty-five thousand francs. We have since learned that arrangements have been made for the manufacture one thousand of these machines in this city for the next harvest. The decision and report of the jury will not be published until the latter part of October; yet all the laurels, we are free to confess, have been gloriously won by Americans, and this achievement cannot be looked upon with indifference, as it but plainly foreshadows the ultimate destiny of the New Fire in Carbondale, Pa .- On Sunday morning of last week a fire broke out in the principa hotel, which extended to both sides of the street destroying the best part of the town, including the business part. The loss must be large, probably not less than $100,000.

THE HIDDEN PATH, by Marion Harland. One elegant 12mo. Price $125.

The following notice of this week, which we find in the Richmond Enquirer, is doubtless from the generous pen or Mrs. Anna Cora Ritchile, and contains a just tribute to the literary telents of the most successful female writer which Virginia has yet produced:
"Let this noble production (we use the adjective in its fullest sense) lie upon the table, enliven the hearth, be the household companion of serry true-hearted Virginian. Foster this gifted daughter of the South with the expanding sunshine of appreciation, the refreshing dews of praise—stimulate undeveloped genius, which has never yet 'penned its inspiration' to walk in her steps, emulate her schievements, and share her honora—let Virginia produce a few more such writers, and the cry that the South has no literature of its own is silenced forever! The Hidden Path is a work that North or South, East or West may point to with the finger of honest price and say 'Our daughter sends this message to the world—pours this balm into wounded heast—trees for wavering erring feet this Hidden Path which leads to the great goal of termal peace."

THE MECHANICS' INSTITUTE FAIR .- The annual Fair of this Institute will commence tomorrow night at the Exhibition Hall. For several days the managers have been busily engaged in receiving machinery and articles of various kinds. This exhibition promises to surpass in interest any that has preceeded it. The machinery department is already much better filled than at any previous fair. Among the machines now in process of erection are many novelties which deserve and will not fail to attract much attention.

The premiums are provided for about sixty classes of articles. The awards this year will be silver medals in the place of the certificates or diplomas hitherto given. The Judges of each class are already appointed and will report their awards in the course of the first two weeks of

The Histrionic Association performed to a crowded house on Saturday evening and gave much satisfaction.

Dr. H. J. Jones, who was recently very ill for some weeks, has been able to resume the practice of his profession at his office on Jefferson, between Third and Fourth. He will respond promptly to every call made on him.

Troxel, Ambrotypist, desires us to say that Ambrotypes are made only at his gallery, over George Blanchard's new clothing store on Main street, between Second and Third, Louisville Ky., and that he has the only right to make and sell pictures between plates of glass, the process being patented. He desires us to caution the public against spurious imitation pictures called Ambrotypes, as they are only made on simple glass, and will fade, having no protection. He says the way to detect them is to rub off the black varnish which constitutes the background.

THE CONTRIBUTION FOR THE RELIEF OF NORFOLK .- The following communication has been received by Mayor Barbee, acknowledging the receipt and signifying the disposition of the Louisville contribution for the relief of the sufferers at Norfolk and Portsmouth:

MAYOR'S OPFICE, BALTIMORE, Sept. 21, 1855.

Hon. John Barbee, Mayor of Louisville:

DEAR SIR: Your communication of the 17th inst., enclosing a check for $2,850 on Messrs. McKim & Co., was duly received. I am di-rected by the Mayor to state in reply that he has placed the funds in the hands of Wm. H. Burne, Esq., treasurer of the relief committee in this city, who will appropriate them agreea-bly to the wishes of the citizens of Louisville, expressed in your letter.

Very respectfully, your ob't serv't, D. H. BLANCHARD, Secretary to the Mayoralty.

THE DANISH SOUND QUESTION .- Respecting this matter, the Paris correspondent of the N. Y. Commercial writes:

A great deal has been said this week upon the Danish Sound question. It has been announced, indeed, that Denmark had offered to join the alliance and furnish effective aid, if France and England would guaranty her protection against the threatened proceedings of the United States. But it is considered improbable that Denmark would assume a position of hostility to Russia at a moment when the allied fleets are withdrawing from the Baltic, and when she must be left exposed to the reprisals of her powerful neighbor.

But there is another curious incident to be mentioned. The Constitutionnel of last Friday contained an article on the existing situation be-tween Denmark and the United States. It laid down this dilemma: either American ships would be allowed to pass without paying the dues, and then all nations would insist on enjoying the same advantages; or else American ships would be fired at and sunk, and war would ensue. The article concludes with expressing the belief that the affair will be taken in hand by European diplomacy and by it be definitively settled. By "European diplomacy" is meant the Cabinets of France and England. This article was written by Mr. P. Dubois, one of the amanuenses of the Emperor, and is supposed to have been intended as a feeler and as a warn-

GREAT BATTLE with the INDIANS. EIGHTY TO ONE HUNDRED KILLED-INDIANS COM-PLETELY ROUTED—ALL THE CAMP EQUIPAGE AND PROVISIONS CAPTURED—AMERICAN LOSS

ST. Louis, Sept. 24.

Gen. Harney has signalized his advance into the Sioux country by one of the most gallant and complete victories ever achieved over an Indian enemy. The victory is so thorough as to strike terror into the whole of the savage tribes occupying that secluded section of country. The battle took place on the 3d inst., at sand Hills, on the north fork of the river Platte. The entire force of the United States troops who participated in the engagement was not over four hundred and fifty men.

Maj. Cady was in command of five companies of the Sixth infantry, Col. Cooke of two companies of the Second dragoons, one companies of the Second dragoons, ny of infantry, and a company of artillery, the whole under the command of General Harney. whole under the command of General Harney. The battle commenced early in the morning and continued several hours. Gen. Harney ordered Col. Cooke's command to place themselves some distance in advance of the infantry so as to come down with full force upon the enemy. These orders were successfully accomplished and about three o'clock in the morning the engagement was commenced by an attack on the part of the infantry, which drove the Indians in the direction of Col. Cooke's command, which being ready and eager for the fray, commenced being ready and eager for the fray, commenced a desperate attack and soon routed them. A a desperate attack and soon routed them. A running fight followed for some ten miles. At a point of rocks a portion of the Indians are said to have made a stand and to have fought with great desperation, but they were soon completely routed having seventy or eighty men killed and fifty women and children taken prisoners. They suffered also the loss of all their camp plunder a large amount of dried huffele meet.

plunder, a large amount of dried buffalo meat, their lodges, and fifty horses. The Indian women it is said fought furiously.

On the part of Gen. Harney's force, five or six were killed and as many wounded. No officers are reported among the killed.

The Indians concerned in this battle were the Brule Sioux of the Platte, the same who some time since massacred Lieut. Grattan's command near Fort Laramie, the murderers of the mail near Fort Laramie, the murderers of the mail party, and who have frequently defied the United States troops to meet them in battle.

Our letters speak of the battle as being a very gallant and well conducted affair. The war is not expected to end with this battle, and we look for more details and stirring news daily.

NEWS BY THE BALTIC.

PROGRESS OF THE WAR.—The bloody episode of the fight of Traktir seems likely to have little effect on the course of events in the Crimea. The Russians have retired up their narrow and well fortified passes to the steep plateau, where, according to Gen. Simpson's latest report, they are once more prepared for of-fensive movements. Attention is, therefore, again turned to the siege of Sebastopol. Little on which a judgment may be founded can be learned either from the dispatches of the Generals or from the correspondence of letter-writers before the city.

To our previous knowledge that the besieg.

ers' sap had approached very near to the Russian defences, we now learn that the foremost parallel, which had been begun at the two ends, as completed and united in the middle on the 18th of August. Since then a fortnight has passed, without much incident. General Simpson mentions a small sortie in which the Russians succeeded in destroying some gabions. For the rest—the daily life of the camp, its hardships and amusements, the death or leave of individual officers, fill both public and private letters. On the great preparations of the last ten weeks the hopes of the besiegers are fixed, and the fire that will open when the time comes will be unexampled in the history of "The cannonade of October last," says the Times, "was trifling to that of April; April was surpassed by the two days which preceded the capture of the Mamelon; but all will sink into insignificance with the iron tempest which will shortly be poured on the besieged city. The weight and range of the guns, the number and size of the mortars, the new positions of the bat-teries won by the steady progress which has marked the summer, will try the endurance of the Russians to the utmost. The great scale on which such a bombardment is carried on, and the preparations necessary for its execution, render the delays which precede it a matter of render the delays which precede it a matter of little surprise. In April, the Allies, threw against Sebastopol, in nine days, 550,000 shot and shell. The cost of the British ammunition alone was £300,000 sterling! Yet April is now looked back upon as a time when we undervalued the enemy and did not know what Sebasto-

"Even on ordinary days the Russians often throw 4,000 shot in the 24 hours, and 600 shells into only one part of the British position. Whatever the resources of the garrison, and the strength of the works at which they labor night and day, there can be no doubt that the approaching struggle will determine the fate of Sebastopol, for the winter at least. No one can pretend to foretell the issue; all that is spoken of with certainty is, that the line-of-battle ships in the harbor will be destroyed, or at least driv en from their position, so as to be made power-less against the assaulting troops. Whether the besiegers shall take the Malakoff—whether they can keep it—whether it will lead to the immediate capture of the town, or only to ulterior success—are all matters of doubt. Should victory not favor the besiegers' arms, they will probably be forced to wait in inactivity till another spring, when change of tactics may assure success. The besieging Generals have set all on the hazard of a doubtful struggle at a single point, and we must wait the result."

The evils of a divided command are more and more felt. The line from Baidar to Inkermann, a distance of twelve miles, is occupied by French, Sardinians, and Turks, with part of the English cavalry—each nationality under its own commander, and totally independent of all the others. Report speaks vaguely of a plan to unite the commands of all the troops on the Tchernaya in one hand.

As six weeks, or at most two months, are the utmost limit that can be assured for active military operations, attention is turned to the means of supplying the armies during the coming win-ter. Mr. Beatty, civil engineer, has received orders to construct two new lines of railway; one from the Col de Balaklava to Kamiesch, to be worked by horse power, and the other from Kadekoi to the Woronzoff Road (near the Sar-dinian position over the Tchergoun), to be worked by locomotive power. The labor of erecting these roads will be supplied by the French and Sardinians. Mr. Beatty believes that the original railway will last during the winter, and 200 men of the army works corps are now engaged in repairing. Stores and sheds are being erected as rapidly as possible, and other preparations or winter are going on with energy.

LATEST INTELLIGENCE.

By Telegraph from London to Liverpool.

Distress in Odessa.—The captain of a French brig who was wrecked near Odessa, and remained in that city until exchanged, has just returned to Marseilles. He gives a lamentable account of the general distress which prevails among the inhabitants of Odessa—and many hitherto opulent families, he says, are literally starving. The inhabitants are in constant ap-prehension of being bombarded. The town is

On the night of the 5th inst., a great fire took place. It was caused by the burning of the Russian two decker Marian, which was anchored in the Bay of Sebastopol.

The fire originated in the bursting of a shell discharged from the right attack. The brilliancy of the flames arising from the conflagration illuminated the whole of the allied camp.

Great Britain.—In the affairs of Edward Olver, the petitioning creditor has failed to establish his case, consequently Mr. Oliver is not a bankrupt. Private statements mention that there is a sum of nearly £100,000 almost ready for division on the estate.

London papers contain severe editorials on the carelessness of the fleets. The maintenance of the Baltic fleet alone called for £30,000 sterling per day.

An ingenious trick has just come to light in the Liverpool corn market. At this season the grain dealers keep a watchful eye on the barometer, and for some time past it has been noticed that the barometer in the Liverpool Exchange rooms, has (mostly on market days) indicated approaching storms, and consequently higher prices. A watch was set, and a speculator was detected in the act of tampering with the indicator. Now the instrument is secured with a bar and padlock.

Portsmouth, Sept. 17. The damp and cloudy weather of the last three days has produced quite a number of new cases, and I fear an increased number of deaths towards the end of the week.

Our heaviest mortality has always been preceded some five or seven days by just such a spell of weather as we now have.

The destitution in our town is beyond calculation, and not only is it so in town, but the refugees in the woods and the residents in the surrounding country are sadly in want of provisions. We are compelled every day to send cart-loads of the necessaries of life for distribution to any other than to any other than to any other than the surrounding to the serve the se tion to save them from starvation.

This state of things is particularly the case in the neighborhood where the oystermen reside, their business being entirely cut off, and, as they produce no articles of provisions, unless aid be extended them they must die of famine.

Immense numbers of families are being daily supplied at our relief store; numbers go away empty, because it is impossible to wait on the crowd that throng the store.

The demands upon us for relief are now such as to call for additional contributions from our sympathizing friends, far and wide.

Besides the provisions that are furnished at the relief store, there are daily a large number of physicians' orders for chickens, porter, wine. arrow root, &c., which are required for the sick and those who are convalescing. Each order sent to the store calls for articles worth from three to fitteen dollars.

There are now but about 250 men at work in the navy-yard; when the fever began there were 1,650 on the roll. GOSPORT.

New York, Sept. 22, P. M.

Stocks better—Canton 25%, Cumberland 25%, Reading 95%, Michigan Central 29%.

Cotton market dull, with a declining tendency—sales of 1,000 bales upland middling 10c. Flour—for State less inquiry and searcely so firm, while there is a good demand for the medium grades of Western, and transactions are made at very full prices for common; extra Ohio in good request for export. The day's transactions in the aggregate amounts to 12,000 bbls at $7.87%@$$ 25 for common to good and extra State, $8@$ 37% for mixed to fancy and low grades extra Western, and $90% $10 50 for extra Genesee. For forward delivery there is a fair demand, but buyers and sellers are rather too wide apart in their views; a sale of 1,500 bbls round hoop Ohio for October, was reported at $7.68@$7.75; included in to-day's transactions are 2.500 bbls extra Ohio for shipment to France at $8.12% and 2,000 bbls common State for November at $7.25. For Southern four the demand is good, both for export and home consumption; the stocks offering are not large, and some holders refuse to sell at the present prices—sales of 1,500 bbls at $3.20% $8.65 for common to choice, and $5.75@$9.75 for fancy and extra. There is less doing in Canadian flour and the market is searcely so firm—sales 600 bbls at $3.00% $5.50. Cornmeal nominally the same, $4.75 for Jersey, $4.81 for Baltimore, and $5. for Brandywino. Grain—for fair prime and white wheat there is a good export demand and prices have again slightly advanced. No important chang: in the market for other descriptions; receipts moderate as the bulk of the sales are to arrive. A considerable portion of the wheat offering consists of criptions; receipts moderate as the bulk of the sales are to arrive. A considerable portion of the wheat offering consists of low grades of red Southern; the sales include 16,780 bushels red Southern at $1.85@$1.93, including 5,000 bushels red Tennessee to arrive before the 1st November at $1.79, 6,000 bushels white Southern at $2@$2.00, 16,000 bushels common upper lake white Southern at $2@$2 10, 16,000 bushels common upper lake red spring at $1 65, 11,000 bushels good winter at $1 80, 10,000 bushels white Illinois at $2 10, 4,500 bushels common to prime white Canadian at $1 97@$2 11. No important change in the rye market and demand good—sales 13,000 bushels at $1 18@$1 20 for Western delivered, and $1 15 for Southern to arrive. $1 20 for Western delivered, and $1 15 for Southern to arrive. Barler very scarce and in request at better prices. Corn lower with scarcely any export demand and only limited inquiry for home communities—sales 45,000 bushels at 87@88% for comcommon to prime Western mixed, closing with sales of latter at 87%@85c. Oats in moderate request at 386/42 for State and Western; the supply is large and receipts increasing. Provisions—not a very large demand for pork, but the market for mess may be quoted a shade firmer—sales 800 bbls at $22.37% @$2.250 for new mess and $21.37%@21 50 for prime, closing heavy for the latter; included in the sales are 500 bbls mess at $22.50. There is less doing in beef; prides however are withheavy for the latter; included in the sales are 500 bbls mess at $22 50. There is less doing in beef; prides however are without important change—sales 200 bbls at $11 50@$12 for country prime, $13@$14 for mess, and $16 50@$17 for repacked Chicago. Beef hams scarce and firmly held at $17@$18, to arrive. Prime mess beef dull and prices nominally the same, $22@26. Bacon in very limited supply. Lard quiet—sales of 250 bbls at 11%@12c. Butter is in mederate demand at previous prices. Cheesa quiet at 9@10c. Ashes—awall sales proported to 250 bbls at 250 bbl

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 22, P. M. PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 22, P. M.
Cotton inactive. Nothing new in flour—standard brands are generally held at $5, but no export demand at this figure and the only transactions reported are in small lots; retailers and bakers are supplied within former quotations. Grain—wheat receipts continue very small, both from South and interior, and is in demand at the late advance—sales 9,000 bushels inferior to prime Southern and Pennsylvania red at $1 60@$1 55, mostly at $1 83@$1 85 affoat, and prime white at $1 95; including 3,300 bushels mixed Virginia and 2,000 bushels Tennessee on terms keptsecret. Corn scarce—yellow isworth 90@91c. Gro-ceries and provisions unchanged. Whisky—demand limited; small sales in bbls at 41@42c and hhds at 40@41c.

Cheese quiet at 9@10c. Ashes—small sales reported at for pots and $6 50 for pearl. Whisky in fair request—s:

600 bbls Ohio and prison, closing at 40%@41c.
